

Differentiating Emotional Disturbance, Social Maladjustment and Attention Deficit Disorders

Audience: K -12 Psychologists and Special Education Teachers	Location: Bedford High School
Instructor: Bruce Bracken	Cost: $75 TEC/EDCO Members / $90 Non-Members
Date & Time: Thursday, November 18, 2010 8:30 AM - 3:30 PM	Earn: CEU's will be available from the American Psychological Association for an additional fee (TBD)

Course Description: This workshop will combine rating scales, the Clinical Assessment of Behavior (CAB), Clinical Assessment of Depression (CAD), Clinical Assessment of Attention Deficit (CAT-Child and CAT-Adult), and the Clinical Assessment of Interpersonal Relations (CAIR) in the diagnosis of emotional disturbance.

Participants will learn:

- a new behavior rating scale (CAB) that provides a comprehensive clinical assessment of behavior, including the differentiation of Emotional Disturbance and Social Maladjustment as required in IDEA legislation.
- how this model applies to not only these instruments but to virtually all personality or adjustment measures.
- how the four scales contribute to a life-span approach to case conceptualization, assessment, interpretation, report writing, and intervention planning and evaluation.

About the Instructor: Bruce Bracken is a professor at the College of William and Mary and former Director of Child and Family Studies in the Department of Psychology at the University of Memphis. In addition to conducting research in psychoeducational assessment, Dr. Bracken is co-principal investigator on two five-year Jacob Javits Department of Education grants. He has authored or co-authored several tests, including the Universal Nonverbal Intelligence Test; Bracken Basic Concept Scale – Third Edition: Receptive; Bracken Basic Concept Scale - Expressive; Bracken School Readiness Assessment – Second Edition; Multidimensional Self Concept Scale; Clinical Assessment of Interpersonal Relations; Clinical Assessment of Behavior; Clinical Assessment of Depression; and the Clinical Assessment of Attention Deficit – Adults and Children.
