Course Description: “Not much time for Social Studies” – Nonsense! This workshop/course will explore creative ways to teach Social Studies using books from various genres and grade levels. Major themes of the History and Social Sciences Framework (civics, history, economics and geography) and English Language Framework will be addressed.

Among topics to be covered:

- Exploring Multiple Intelligences as they relate to ELA and Social Studies
- Beginning with a book – Creative and motivating lesson introductions
- Exploring non-fiction as a valuable resource for exploring primary sources
- Fiction for Social Studies – From picture books, chapter books and beyond

About the Instructor: Carol Cohen has many years of experience working in the field of education. She is an adjunct faculty member at Lesley University in the Graduate School of Education. She teaches Social Studies Methods and Practicum Seminar. With her company, Now Voyager Education, Carol travels to schools all over New England, presenting history and geography workshops to elementary and middle school students and teachers.
