Course Description: This course will offer participants a chance to explore opportunities to integrate curricular choices for young children. Overarching goals will provide a basis for multiple access points to engage children and deepen their understanding of concepts and improve their skills. Opportunities to integrate academic areas of science, math, social studies and English language arts with physical learning and arts education will be developed. Teachers will have several projects to represent this learning that will be applicable to their classrooms.

About the Instructors: Vicki Milstein is currently the Early Education principal in Brookline, where she provides supervision and professional development for preschool and kindergarten teachers and support staff. She manages various grants for the early childhood program as well. She has been an instructor at Wheelock College and MassBay Community College, specializing in early childhood education. Min-Jen Taylor is a Pre-Kindergarten teacher in Brookline, where she implements curriculum in an inclusive classroom. She also works as an onsite supervisor with the Launch Summer Program. In her work with the summer program, she coordinates their organizational, staffing and operational activities.

Cancellations: No credits or refunds will be given on withdrawals less than 10 business days before the first class. Checks will be processed approximately two weeks prior to the start date of the course; other payments are processed immediately.
Note: After January 27, a $25 late fee is required with each course registration.
