Course Description: This course is an overview of brain-based research as it pertains to physical education, and will assist participants in engaged discussion that examines the integration of physical education within the elementary school program. Practical examples will be given to show the connection between elementary physical education and other subject areas in developing a comprehensive team approach to student learning.

About the Instructor: Maria Melchionda's experiences have included teaching in the public schools as an elementary and adapted physical educator; Past President of the Massachusetts Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (MAHPERD); and member of the National Association for Sport & Physical Education Public Relations Committee. She has a Master's degree in Educational Leadership (N-6) and is certified K-9 in physical education. She has made numerous presentations in various arenas on the national, regional and state levels pertaining to quality physical education for all students. She presently is the Executive Director of MAHPERD.
